Mihai Eminescu’s Journalistic Work in G. Ibrăileanu and E. Lovinescu’s Approach

The present paper, Mihai Eminescu’s Journalistic Work in G. Ibrăileanu and E. Lovinescu’s Approach, aims at tracing aspects of this intriguing process of interpreting his articles, focusing on the way in which it was viewed by two of the most important literary critics of that period: G. Ibrăileanu and E. Lovinescu, both known for their activity in studying Eminescu’s work. Our main objective is to identify these ideological particularities which shape different ways of interpreting his articles. The differences must be analyzed taking into account their cultural background and the ideology they believe in. That is why, sometimes, the results in interpreting Eminescu’s journalistic work are influenced by the ideas they want to promote. In discussing their points of view, we must take into account both the context of the period but also their ideological background which leads them to distinct interpretations.
