Literature and Historical Canon

This study follows, on one hand, the necessity of public debate on the re-evaluation of the literary canon in Romanian culture and, on the other hand, the irrelevant history of the analyses of our way of connecting to the constituent books of community spirituality. Even our manner of relating to “canonical authors” and not “canonical texts”, reflects the identity dilemma of our literature.